

Washington, D.C. - To commemorate Focus the Nation, a national day of action for climate change solutions, Rep. David Price (D-NC) addressed college students in the 4th Congressional District on the need for aggressive federal action to tackle the serious global problem.

View the following video of his remarks from Washington.

#